

NCE raise £2020 to help make this year's 'Movember' a record breaker

Over the last 30 days 'Mos' have appeared silently on the faces of NCE Male staff members, and have turned November into 'Movember'.

And it's good news - those itchy faces have paid off. NCE alone have raise a cracking £2020 for Movember - ranking us the 555th highest charity team earner in the UK.

Movember has proved to be a huge boost to The Prostate Cancer Charity both in terms of a sudden surge in their income as well as raising awareness of the disease among men. This year more than 110,000 people have registered on the website and so far they've raised around £6.1m, although the charity believes that the final figure could be closer to £10m. The rules were simple. Start with a clean shaven face on November 1st, then no shaving of the top lip until November 30th - no beards, no goatees and no joining up sideburns with a 'tache'.

Credit has to go to the top 3 NCE earners - Andrew 'Geny' Genever, Jon Woodward, Trevor Lawson. Between them they managed to raise over 50% of our final figure. Needless to say it's been a great effort by everyone involved at NCE, by those that grew, and those that donated.
